IMPORTANT COPY: READ

I KNOW YOU ARE PROBABLY IMPATIENT TO LOOK AND SEE JUST HOW MANY PAGES YOUR PICTURE IS ON. WELL, GO AHEAD AND WHEN YOU HAVE FINISHED, COME BACK AND PLEASE READ THE COPY BELOW:

The annual to me is something in years to come that I can look back and say I helped create it. It's a very meaningful book for all the students as well as the annual staff. I hope everyone will appreciate and be pleased with this year's Tiger. Donna Staggs the annual means a great deal at the beginning of each year. we receive this book which brings back memories of days we'll never live again. After working with the annual staff, putting together the year book for 1973-74, it really was hard work, yet it's all worth it in the end. Thanks for the chance to work with the annual. Glende Johnson annual means to me, a memory of that past year. it brings back memories that may have been happy or sad. it is very beneficial and i really love it. anyone that becomes involved with the staff must be able to take on the responsibilities and try to do a good job. Debra A. Jackson

To me the annual is something that I can cherish for years to come. When we receive this year book, I can take it and look back on the happening at C.H.S. It's really hard work, but a lot of fun, yet it's worth it in the end. Thanks for a chance to work the annual. Kim Grant # together in "times of trouble"

q. what was your first impression of the racial problems?

a. i felt that this was the blacks or our way of getting back at the other race, because it seems that other wise we get no attention at all.

(diane welch)

a. my impression was that it was coming sooner or later.

(sandra howard)

a. it was pitiful.

(rita saylor)

a. very uncalled for. there was no reason for this show of ignorance.

(charles tippins)

q. do you think that the policeman was necessary?

a. no, if the parents would keep out of it, everything would work.

(rhonda brewton)

a. no, because all the fighting changed nothing. things are just as they were.

(janice warren)

q. do you think we have a racial problem?

a. yes, in this school, town, and country, there's a racial problem - people just don't know how to live together.

(rebecca griner)

a. yes. because some still look at the past; faculty and students.

(mildred thomas)

a. yes, prejudice.

(segal glisson)

a. yes, in student body and faculty. because people are still looking at the skin color and not the person.

(elizabeth williams)

q. what could everyone do to improve conditions at our school?

a. they could try to get along together and stop looking at each others color and start looking at the person.

(janice warr)

a. act like they had some common sense.

(randall tippin)

a. they could pull together being a whole, not individuals.

(diane welch)

a. each person should try within themselves to accept one another as individuals.

(linda hall)

1. should smoking be allowed at school?

a. no. school is not the place for it.

(gracie primous)

smoking at school !

a. yes. because if you don't allow smoking they are going to smoke anyway.

(gary bell)

a. yes, if it is restricted to a smoking area.

(charles tippins)

q. have there been any problems in the bathroom concerning smoking? Explain?

a. yes. sometimes you can't see for the smoke in there. the bathroom is full of cigarette butts.

(catherine benjamin)

a. no. because i smoke.

(debra brannen)

q. would you ask someone to stop smoking if it was bothering you?

a. yes, but it doesn't bother me.

(rhonda brewton)

a. no. i think its their right, but i really can't say because i smoke.

(debra brannen)

opinion - (əpin'yan), n. 1. what is thought on any matter or subject; judgement or

How's our School spirit?

belief resting on grounds insufficient to produce certainty; public opinion. 2. a view or notion (held or expressed).

q. in comparison to other schools how would you rank our school spirit?

a. school spirit and attitude is terrible. (tommy lynn)

a. number 1. (bonnie bacon)

a. i feel that we are kind of low because we're lacking enthusiasm. (linda hall)

a. terrible, maybe the first few football games are pretty good but afterwards its downhill all the way.

(diane kennedy)

q. is pep rally really needed?

a. yes, it is a lot of work for the people involved but i think for the benefit of the players it is necessary.

(dee harris)

a. no need. the people don't care. (stevie tippins)

a. yes, definitely. (norma tootle)

q. why do you think pep rallies often fail?

a. the teams last performance and often cheerleaders lack of dedication.

(tommy lynn)

a. people use it to skip school or lack of interest in sports. (mary smith)

a. because so many people dislike the cheerleading squad, they don't hollar like they should.

(diane welch)

a. the students aren't concerned and some act to proud to yell.

(diane kennedy)

q. does a good pep rally and cheering supporters at the game really influence the players?

a. it influences them very much. it gives them a good feeling when they see that the whole school and community are behind them 100%.

(diane welch)

a. yes it does, it really means something to hear the fans supporting them.

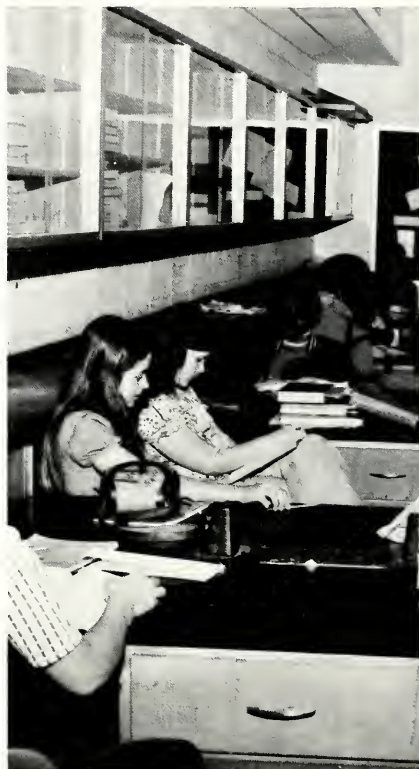

(dee harris)

a. yes it gives them an assurance that they can win.

(bonnie bacon)

i guess that everyone is criticized to a certain extent, but there comes a time for everyone to sit down and think maybe he is not all bad but what is the good about him?

well, as for raleigh macon we find him to be concerned about the welfare of each of our students and their advancement into today's society. indeed, he has proved to be a man of very high standards.

we are proud to dedicate our 1973-74 tiger to one so deserving of it, mr. raleigh macon.

to be patient, understanding, sincere, and considerate, is to be mr. b. b. burkhalter.

in times of hardships, especially from the public, in the opinion of the students it is highly agreed that he is the one who is there to bring problems to a successful end.

he is to be respected, as he respects every individual for their own beliefs. can you imagine one who goes through all the problems that he faces and continues to wear a smile. well i can, and i'm proud to have the chance to express my feelings about someone who is so dedicated. to mr. b. b. burkhalter the staff would like to say thank-you.

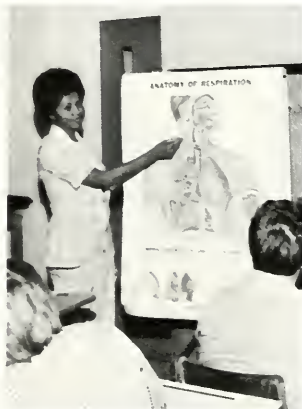

B. B. Burkhalter

timeless memories inked up on a page. chs teachers reflect a moment on the ideas of what teaching means to them. several teachers presented quotes of importance.

cherry brewton, "teaching is providing proper guidance and activities to promote an individual's spiritual intellectual, social and moral growth. "to educate means to draw out not to pour in; a teacher uncovers a subject, he does not cover it. "

pam gibson, "to be a teacher, is to be able to show each student that he has some special ability or talent which is worth developing and to - if only in some small way - help him find his place in the world. "some people are beautiful, some intelligent, some creative, and some wealthy; and then some possess the strength of character the accept the fact that they are none of these.

herb driver, teaching means different things to different people. for me, i think, it is an association or intersection between groups of people, from which cultural academic, and philosophic properties of the society and the individual are exchanged, analyzed, and applied. teaching and learning are complementary functions. one does not exist without the other. everyone is a teacher, and a learner. "the science fiction of today, is the science of tomorrow. "

david buchanan, "through teaching i hope have added to tomorrow's citizens ability to distinguish between random change and true progress. "it is impossible for an ignorant people to make rational and responsible decisions about public affairs. " thomas jefferson barbara elmore, "a challenge to help boys and girls, become useful, productive citizens in their communities - to make us love our country, our country ought to be lovely. "

edmand burke

glenda edwards, "teaching is helping students learn to think for themselves so they can solve their own problems as they arise. never be satisfied with less than the best."

l.b. hayes, "what a student learns in a course is dependent not only upon the objective of the course, the teaching methods used, and the learners ability and effort, but also upon teacher-student relations. he who plants a tree does well; he who fells and saws it into planks does well; he, who sitting on the bench, teaching a child, does better than the rest."

d. kicklighter,
"teaching is a great
profession. it is not the easiest work in the world, but it can be the most reward-
ing. i love it!"
"celebrate your humanity!"

elaine lockwood, "i don't feel teaching is the act of giving the student a one-way answer to a problem. instead, it is the process of exciting a student to the fact that he has a multitude of choices from which he can approach the solution to a problem. however, teaching is not confined to the electing of feed-back from student to teacher. perhaps it is having the mind occupied with the thought of one-hundred and fifty people rather than only oneself. "it is easier to take criticism from a friend or someone who shows they care, then to accept the criticism of a stranger."

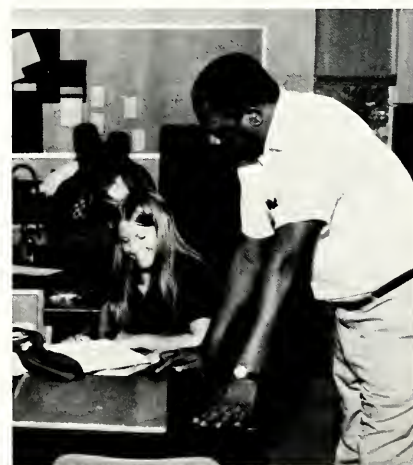

Durrell Lynn, "teaching is a method which we can, hopefully, impart to young people attitudes and codes of conduct that will be incorporated into their lives and be an influencing part of their future existence. "no matter what the circumstances, adjust to them and get the job done."

coach Jones, "to me teaching means trying to develop the students mind, body and character to such a degree that when he gets out, he will be a credit not only to the world in which he lives but to himself as an individual. "winners never quit. quitters never win!"

virginia albert, "teaching is an opportunity to help young people prepare themselves to play an integral part in society. "if i can help somebody. then, my teaching is not in vain."

janice lamb, "teaching is becoming involved with each student - as an individual. teaching is caring about the aspirations and goals of each student. teaching is challenging each student to reach his highest individual potential. teaching is helping each student to realize how much his efforts spent now will mean to him later. teaching is setting the fire of desire in the student who feels that getting by is good enough.

teaching is sharing the feelings of each student in both victory and disappointment.

"what the mind can conceive and believe the mind can achieve."

grace usher, "to be courteous, to be helpful, to be knowledgeable about people and books, and above all to be willing to serve students, parents and others in whatever way I can is teaching." "make books thy comrades."

ann lynn, secretary "teaching means reaching the student. presenting a challenge that will bring out a willingness and desire to learn and do a good job."

"think! what do you want out of life in the future?"

dollie edwards, "teaching is when you have inspired a pupil with a desire to learn. i believe that you cannot teach a man anything. you can only help him to find it within himself." "the only way to have a friend is to be one."

marsha arnold, "teaching is striving to meet the individual needs of my students. it is relating to them in such a way that learning will take place." "all the darkness of the world cannot put out the light of one small candle."

pressure, tense moments, the agony of defeat, and the thrill of victory marked this season with a record of 13-7. the fact that they had it in their minds; "we're number 1;" combined with dedication and guidance, boosted our Tigers to become region 4a subregion 4a champs, region 4a runner-up, and to compete in the state competition. although our young men lost their first game in macon, within the hearts of each person at chs; indeed, they are winners.

school life would not be the same without extra-curricular activities. maybe it is to train for leadership, maybe to develop ambitions, for others sports play an important part of school life. what's more thrilling than an exciting basketball game? many disappointed girls. tense moments combined with determination proved that our girls were excellent hustlers. the girls learned from their mistakes and gained experience for an even better year in 1975.

usually one would say that a student should be judged by the capacity of work he does and the rate at which he does it. yet, we as sophomores feel that our ability is of greater significance. sophomores have ability but it is not always expressed as vividly as that of the jrs. or srs. sophomores must strive harder in their achievements to express their abilities, however retaining their identity as sophomores.

hardworking juniors strive for perfection, remember our "jungle-book" float that we proudly presented in the 1973 homecoming parade, what about the dance afterwards! new attitudes form as each student matures, seeking solutions as life's unfolding brings many answers, a time to gather thoughts. in changing times there's a time to laugh and a time to cry. spirits resound during pep rallies. juniors wear their class rings with pride. a kaleidoscope of colors and girls were presented in "colour my world"
at the beauty revue. a kiss of luck, and prom begins. smiling faces of '75 have but one year until the end, or is it
the beginning?

... stepping back for just a moment to

of CHS 1974

catch a glimpse of our past . . . . .

yes, i'm dr. schuman, may i help you?
what seems to be the problem memie? why don't you step into my office.

i just can't seem
to make up my mind. i just love
stevie tippins' hat, but stevie rogers is just so, so, oh i'm so
confused!

well dee . . .

c'mon dee, i promise
i'll let you wear
my hat.

you've got to be
kidding doctor schuman!

wow! how big was it Matt?
it was this... big.

ahh, come on mom. what
is wrong with screaming?
everyone else does it. besides i'm right on time for my bath.

i think i forgot the words, anyway, i can't sing and dance at the same time.

ready, set, go! too bad you don't know what is on my mind!

oh, you silly thing!
i love you too
tommy!

girls! nothing but trouble!
i hate girls!

oh tommy! you're so funny!

repeat that, will you tommy?

oh dennis, hush!
 can't you see
 that i'm not
 in the mood
 for that garble!
 things just haven't
 been going too
 well lately!

well, get off your
 rocker and cheer
 up cindy!

Happy birthday, Coach Lynn. we want you to look nice for that special day. Buy a little land for your hair.

wash your hair at least once every other night; then again maybe some wash their hair once a month. attend the beautician once a month starting at the age 10--attend the beautician once a year starting at the age 17. these are two of the common differences in the grooming of black and white student's hair. hairstyles have varied a great deal this year; from braids to curly fro all the way to the natural.

some like it short
some like it long
some even like it
longer.

as the editor of this 1973-74 yearbook, I can't help but feel proud of every moment the staff and I spent working on the annual; whether the times were good or bad, happy or sad.

We have had trials and tribulations that could never be counted, but also there were the great times, and times when we learned.

I've learned a great deal by working with the yearbook. I've learned skillful abilities as well as personal experiences.

As you look through our work, I want you to feel just as proud of it as I do, because this is one book that contains a year of the lives of many people: also this book was put together with time, energy, concentration, and thought, to satisfy the ideas of almost 600 students as well as teachers.

Also, I would like to say thank-you staff, your job was well done.
